They Hang: Twelve Women in My Portrait Gallery

By Syeda S. Hameed

Women Unlimited, New Delhi, 1995. Soft cover. Book Condition: New. Here are the real-life stories of those women whom the author encountered as Member of the National Commission for Women, poignantly and shockingly presented by her as fact-cum-fiction. Each of the women is someone we recognize, yet she remains faceless. Each of them cries out for justice, yet justice is elusive. Each of them embodies the predicament of the majority of Indian women, but only a few have the courage to speak out. Read their lives in this extraordinary document, which is also an indictment of a society that claims to worship its women. Women who were revenge gang-raped, honour-killed, sexually harassed, branded as witches, burnt for dowry, abused as children. Their stories appeared in newspapers, triggered shock waves, evoked protests, dharnas and gheraos-and died down, But who were they? Maximun from Nuh in haryana, gudiya from Haria ki Garhi in Mathura, sajoni from Jamtara in Jharkhand, Jahanara from reshampura in Gwalior, Bela from Karvi in Banda. and countless others.

Reviews

Extensive information for book fans. It is written in basic words and never hard to understand. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

This publication is great. It is full of wisdom and knowledge. You will not really feel monotony at any time of the time (that's what catalogs are for relating to when you ask me).
